

SCP FOUNDATION

Secure. Contain. Protect.

SITE 19

Haunt Comp 2023
Writing
Group 8

FOR USE BY FOUNDATION MEMBERS ONLY

Logline

A Euclid-Class anomaly has escaped its holding cell in SCP's Site 19, spreading decay and releasing other anomalies on its way to the surface.

Dodge pocket dimensions to reach the surface before being corroded or torn to pieces.

Synopsis

Secure, Contain, and Protect: at least that's what the SCP Foundation tries to accomplish.

Hundreds of [REDACTED] are kept safe within SCP's Site 19. But a regular day on the job turns into a nightmare when you learn that SCP-106 has breached containment protocols, tearing open corroded pocket dimensions and releasing other [REDACTED] on its rampage.

Your escape route is riddled with freed monsters, and SCP-106 lurks in the shadows to prey on its unfortunate victims. Avoiding corroded once-coworkers, you find that you are some of the last living employees of Site 19.

As SCP-106 closes in, corrosion encroaches until you are engulfed by it. Further horrors await in alternate dimensions, where you must flee other SCPs — and their victims.

Can you escape from SCP-106 and the other anomalies that have been unleashed before they completely destroy Site 19, and you along with it?

Beats

01//Pre-Show

(Dual pre-shows with staggered entry time; scene time 20s to target a dispatch every 10-15s)

You take the elevator down into the bowels of SCP's Site 19, arriving at work for the day and meeting your boss, Dr. Ripley.

"Good morning, employees. Welcome to our state-of-the-art facility where we strive to Secure, Contain, Protect. SCP. Here, insidious creatures from around the globe are prevented from wreaking havoc on humanity, and—"

Suddenly, sirens and fog!

"Attention, SCP employees, Number 106 has escaped containment. Engage lockdown protocol, and— (beast eating sounds, sizzling metal)"

106 is projected on a screen. Dr. Ripley instructs you to leave the elevator immediately through a metal door.

① MARQUEE

① ELEVATOR PRE-SHOW (2 ALTERNATING)

02 // Corridor

Your escape route lies through the bowels of SCP Site 19. You must dodge SCP-096, a skeletal humanoid with a huge unhinged jaw that is known to attack anyone who sees its unnatural face.

② HOLDING CELL CORRIDOR

SCP-096²

03 // Scientist (Stunt)

At the end of the corridor, a scientist who has been attacked by SCP-106 stumbles out, covered in black mucus and rapidly corroding skin. While yelling for help in a panic for survival, the scientist is pulled upwards through a portal. You must move forward through a hole in the side wall.

③ SCIENTIST STUNT

04//New Dimension

In the new dimension, you catch your first glimpse of SCP-106, feeding on the body of the decayed scientist. Several other Site 19 employees have fallen here, dead and corroded.

④ CORRUPTED DIMENSION

PRELIMINARY CHARACTER SKETCH - SCP-106

05//Plague Doctor

Upon exiting the new dimension, you come out into Site 19's medical facility, which has been taken over by the Plague Doctor. Many of his deformed and disfigured patients are dead, but a few are still moving. Careful—the remaining patients with a pulse are no longer acting very...human.

⑤ OPERATING ROOM

06 // Backstage Corridors

Quick! The way out is through the service corridor of Site 19. Tight turns and switchbacks make each turn a dreaded surprise. Watch out for those vents – creatures are lurking where you least expect them.

⑥ SERVICE CORRIDOR ESCAPE

07 // Control Room

At the end of the corridor, you reach Site 19's security room. A large wall of screens greets you, and you can catch glimpses of other guests making their way through Site 19. SCP-106 is following you and the only escape is through another portal.

⑦ CONTROL ROOM

08 // Corrupted Control Room (Finale)

The control room is turned upside-down in the new dimension. On the few monitors that are still functioning, you can see the Theme Park outside Site 19, infested with SCP creatures. It is their world now.

⑧ CORRUPTED CONTROL ROOM

09 // Final Scare

You exit the dimension onto a path to the exit. SCP-106 is there once again, rising above the ground and reaching for you as you make your escape.

⑨ FINAL SCARE / BIG BAD
